Weekly Progress Report

Team#: 8

Project Name: Attendin

Team Members: Dominic Iquina, Mutazz Zeidan

Advisor: Elizabeth Pawley

Date: Monday – September 22, 2025

What was accomplished last week:

This week our team focused on creating initial design requirements and definitions for our project. We've worked on an iteration of this project before, so this time was spent reimagining and structuring our existing design and work. A lot of time was also spent working on creating and organizing user stories which will be updated in the coming weeks as we progress through.
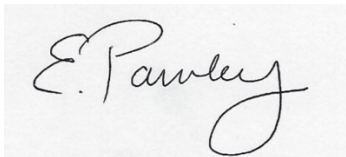

Plans for coming week:

This week we plan on furthering our work in our user stories as well as reviewing our existing figma design. Our team is going to consider whether new requirements need to be established based on current needs or if the existing ones are suitable. We also have plans to set up a new repository (one has already been created just not organized to our needs) and our flutter project to springboard off our designs and get some initial screens created.

Issues or concerns:

N/A

Advisor comment(s): Would love to hear how user stories are incorporated into design on next week's report. Sounds like good progress is being made!
